QUAKE FELT IN MANILA

Manila, P. I., Nov. 26.—(INS)—An earthquake tonight which caused Manila buildings to sway for a full minute and sent terrified residents fleeing into the streets, centered 65 miles southwest of Manila, according to calculations of the Weather Bureau.

It was first feared that considerable damage had been done at the center of the quake zone but reports from Nasugbu by radio telephone said no damage had occurred there. Efforts were being made to reach Batangas to determine the extent of damage there. The quake started at 8:10 p. m. Seismologists estimated the intensity of the shock between five and six on the scale used to measure earth movements.

PUSH WATERWAY TREATY

Washington, Nov. 26.—(INS)—A new St. Lawrence Waterway Treaty eliminating many of the material objections to the pact rejected by the Senate last spring, is being negotiated by the American and Canadian governments. Contrary to American rumors, the new pact will be materially different from the one submitted to the last Senate. It will face just as stiff opposition as the original treaty but the fight may develop over secret agreements, rather than on the local issues previously raised.

PLAN AVIATION CORPS

Washington, Nov. 26.—(INS)—A new drive to free military aviation from domination by other branches of the Army and Navy will be started in the 74th Congress.

Representative John J. McSwain, democrat of South Carolina, chairman of the House Military Affairs committee, announced today he will propose two legislative steps to this end.

PLAYWRIGHT ILL

London, Nov. 26.—(INS)—George Bernard Shaw, caustic-planned playwright, who is confined to his bed with a cold, "is going on nicely," his secretary said today. He had not suffered a heart attack, as at first reported, the secretary said.

PAINTINGS TO BE SHOWN

Paintings from the Hamilton Eastern Field foundation will be on exhibition at the Art Center from 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday to Friday week. These exhibitions are open to the public.

Honoraries Begin Student Loan Fund

Keys and Cwens Make First Donation of Year to Student Aid Fund

The Student Loan fund, inaugurated to offer minor financial aid to any student of the University, went into effect today through the proceeds of the Keys-Cwens Dutch tea dance, which was held Friday afternoon. Approximately $30 was donated to the fund. These funds will be divided into two separate lending units, women students receiving aid from Cwens and the men being taken care of by Keys.

All loans will be issued from the business office in the Administration building and will be conducted through the offices of the deans of men and women.

Cwens, the sophomore women's honorary organization, held its second meeting of the year last Wednesday at which time Mary Gunn Webb, junior in the College of Arts and Sciences and former president of Cwens, was elected alumnae adviser for the coming year.

Other business of the meeting included the appointment by the executive committee of three standing committees. Helen Farmer was appointed the chairman of the social group with Martha Bittner and Nell Shearer named as her assistants. The financial committee is made up of Mary Rees Land, chairman, Sarah Louise Cundiff, and Nancy Phelps. The third committee is the business committee, which is composed of the alumnae adviser, Mrs. Sarah B. Holmes, and the officers of the organization.

F.E.R.A. NOTICE

Work sheets must be turned in to the office of the dean of men not later than 5 p. m. Wednesday, November 28. Payment will be made Monday, December 3, at the Business office.

It is absolutely necessary that these sheets be in Wednesday and that the students come for their money Monday and sign the sheets at that time as they must be mailed to the Louisville office on the following day.

Dean Jones wishes to call attention once more to the necessity of strict adherence to these requirements.

FINAL FOOTBALL PEP RALLY WILL BE HELD TODAY

Meeting at 4 p. m. Will Be in Form of Open Football Drill

TO BE STAGED ON PRACTICE FIELD
Band to Exhibit Formations It Will Use at Tennessee Game

Climaxing a brilliant series of the most spectacular pep rallies of several years, Sukey Circle will sponsor the final football rally on Tuesday at 4 p. m. today on Stoll field. The rally will be in the form of an open football practice, at the suggestion and through the cooperation of Coach Chet Wynne. Pete Reiniger will be in charge of the program.

The rally will precede the team's departure for Knoxville late tonight. J. B. Croft, Pete Reiniger and Lucy Jean Anderson have been selected as cheer leaders, and Virginia Robinson and Sam Wagon as representatives of the University for the annual beer keg ceremony.

The band will be featured at this rally and will exhibit a new formation which they plan to use when they parade on the Tennessee field between halves, Thursday. They will parade through the downtown section of Lexington before the rally.

The students and alumni of the University and the residents of the city are urged to attend the rally. All University students are requested to buy "Beat Tennessee" tags, which will be on sale on the campus.

The mock football practice planned by the coaching staff will consist of a light workout, followed by a scrimmage of the first and second Wildcat teams. Only the members of the squad who will make the trip to Knoxville will engage in the exhibition.

Every student of the University is expected to be present at the rally, which will be the most unusual held on the campus during the year.

PAN-POLITIKON HOLDS ELECTION

Political Relations Group Selects Italy for Year's Discussion Topic. Will Conduct Convocation

Officers of the executive committee of Pan-Politikon, student organization for the promotion of international politics, were elected Thursday night at a meeting at Maxwell Place, following a dinner at which Mrs. Frank L. McVey entertained the members of the committee.

Those elected were: William Greathouse, chairman; Elvis Stahr, vice-chairman; Kitty Cook, secretary; and Frank Borries, publicity director.

The various colleges of the University were then assigned for special supervision by members of the committee. The outline for carrying on the year's work is as follows: Elvis Stahr, as vice-chairman, will have general control of all subcommittees and is responsible for appointments and the work of these committees and their heads.

These subcommittees are to be appointed from among the respective student bodies of the colleges and will work under the executive committee members as follows: College of Arts and Sciences, John St. John; College of Engineering, George Spencer; College of Commerce, William Greathouse; College of Education, Anna Jean Blackburn; College of Agriculture, including Home Economics, Martha Pugett; College of Law, George Spencer; and Department of Music, Elizabeth Hardin. The College of Arts and Sciences will have separate committees for each of the larger fields of the college.

Besides the committee, Prof. Edward Rannels, faculty member of the committee, and Dean Sarah Blanding, were guests of Mrs. McVey, and they offered information and suggestions at the subsequent meeting. The country selected for special study this year was Italy. It will be the duty of each committee to arrange for at least one period of every class in the college under their supervisions to be devoted to the subject of Italy in the special field of the classwork.

U. S. GAINS TERRITORY

Little America, Antarctica, Nov. 26.—(INS)—The United States today possessed 200,000 square miles more of territory, as the result of Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd's latest flight over ice-covered Antarctica. Marie Byrd Land, he discovered, extends unbrokenly to the South Pole. An earlier conclusion that the Antarctic continent was divided by a strait was reversed.

Holidays Are To Begin Thursday

Thanksgiving holidays will begin officially at 8 a. m. Thursday and will last until 8 a. m. Monday, according to an announcement from the Registrar's office. This means that the holiday does not begin until after last classes on Wednesday.

On alternate years the holidays extend over this four-day period, as they are the years when the football team goes to Knoxville for the annual Kentucky-Tennessee tilt. Other years, when the game is played here, the holiday is of only one day's duration.

The regular penalties for absence before or after a holiday, will be in effect this year; that is, every student absent from classes on Wednesday or on Monday will have three credit hours added to his requirements for graduation.

CADET OFFICERS ARE APPOINTED

Oscar Reuter Is Appointed Cadet Colonel of Regiment. Stanford Neal Chosen Lieutenant Colonel

The R.O.T.C. cadet officer appointments for the year 1934-35, were announced today by Major B. E. Brewer and are effective at once. The appointments are based on camp work, basic military, and advanced military grades, extra curricular activities and leadership.

A tentative list of appointments is made up by Captain Austin Triplett, senior class instructor of the military department. This list is then sent to Major Brewer, who considers the merit of the men suggested, changes and otherwise revises the list for commission of the officers, if needed.

The appointments are: regimental commanders: Colonel, Oscar P. Reuter; Lieutenant Colonel, Stanford Neal; battalion commanders: Lieutenant Colonel, Phil P. Ardrey; Lieutenant Colonel, Milton M. Magruder.

Battalion executives, Majors: John L. Carter, Harry M. Shedd, and Harold F. Miller; Regimental staff, Captains: William B. Cundiff, William W. Greathouse, Charles P. Reeves, and John A. Stokely.

Company commanders, Captains: David P. Difford, Harold Rhoads, Fritz B. Borries, J. Douglas Andrews, Ernest L. James, James H. Clarke, and Preston B. Powell.

Battalion staff, First Lieutenants: Jack M. Crain, Alfred C. Miller, Milo G. Karsner, Wallace E. Dillard, James E. Fahey, Theodore M. Wilson, James E. Black, and James Threlkeld.

JOURNALISTS TO INITIATE

Sigma Delta Chi, honorary and professional fraternity for men, will hold initiation for the 18 pledges at 5 p. m. tonight in the basement of McVey hall. This will be followed by a banquet in their honor at 6:30 o'clock in the University Commons. The pledges are: Cameron Coffman, William Carrel, Delmar Adams, Ed Shannon, William Miller, John Christie, Bud Hunt, Henry McCown, Morton Collins, Geo. M. Calvert, John Day, Jack Wild, Arthur Muth, Basil Baker, Henry Hornsby, William Wallace, John Reidy, and Oscar Haight.

Beer Keg Tradition Adds Color to Wildcat-Vol Battle

By JOHN DARNELL

Just before the Tennessee-Kentucky football game on Thanksgiving Day in 1925, a group of University alumni known as the "Raspberry Patch" decided that greater rivalry between the two teams could be had if they played for something material, rather than just for the honor of winning.

They decided on a beer keg, which was a symbol of Kentucky's one-time weakness. But this was in the days of prohibition. The anti-saloon league and other similar organizations were horrified that the University would permit such a symbol, thinking that this meant that the University favored the return of light wines and beer.

Beer kegs were, of course, very scarce, so the "Raspberry Patch" had to send all of the way to Cincinnati to get a vinegar barrel. This served the purpose just as well, and put the prohibitionists at ease.

The first "beer keg" ceremony was most spectacular. The Wildcat band, lead by two representatives, began at one goal post and marched toward the center of the

Coach Wynne's First Year At Helm of Wildcats Will End With Tennessee Game

Cats Will Enter Contest As Underdogs in Traditional Tilt

VOLS VICTORS IN LAST TWO CONTESTS

Big Blue in Best Physical Condition Since Cincinnati Game

By MAX LANCASTER

Coach Chet Wynne will bring to a close his first year of tutoring the Wildcats Thursday afternoon at Knoxville when the Tennessee Volunteers play host to the Kentuckians in the traditional Thanksgiving battle between the two schools. The Cats again will enter the game as the underdogs and will make a gallant effort to do what they have in the past failed to bring about—a win over a Neyland coached Tennessee team.

During the last few years the Wildcats have gained three ties that knocked the Volunteers out of the national championship running. The last time the two teams tied was in 1931 when Tennessee seemed headed for the Rose Bowl, but then came Thanksgiving and Kentucky. The Kentuckians did not have chance of defeating the Vols but when the final gun sounded the score was 6 and 6. Thursday the Big Blue will go up against great odds, perhaps with a smile from Lady Luck we can come out of the tussle with the long end of the score.

The game this week will renew one of the oldest gridiron rivalries in the south. The series between Kentucky and Tennessee was begun in 1893 with Kentucky winning by 56 to 0. The next game between the institutions was played in 1899, Tennessee winning by 12 to 0. One game was played between 1899 and 1906, that in 1901 and Tennessee won the game by a 5 to 0 score.

The game has been played annually since except for the years 1917 and 1918. Of these Kentucky has won 9, Tennessee 11, and six have been tied. During the years of '32 and '33 the Tennessee team has run rough shod over the Cats to defeat them by 26 to 0 and 27 to 0, respectively.

Although the Wildcats will go up against great odds in the game Thursday, chances of another Tennessee walkover is not so bright. Barring injuries between now and game time the Cats will be in the best physical condition they have been since the Cincinnati tussle. (Continued on Page Four)

U. K. Graduate Identifies Victims As His Daughters

(SPECIAL TO THE KERNEL)

Chicago, Nov. 26.—(INS)—Lucius M. Hammonds, quiet, gray-haired University of Kentucky graduate, today provided the "hottest" clue in the mystery of the three girls murdered at Carlisle, Pa., when he viewed pictures and said they were his children. He said the girls left with his estranged wife five years ago. He described a foot injury to one and this corresponded to a description of one of the bodies. Another he called "Norma," the name scribbled in a book in a suitcase found near the bodies.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—(INS)—Lucius M. Hammonds, 53, of Chicago, appeared at the detective bureau this afternoon and declared that the three girls found dead in the mountains near Carlisle, Pa., were his three daughters.

Hammonds said his wife, Parille, a tall blond woman, 36 years old, left him in 1929, taking the three daughters, the youngest an infant at that time. He said he believed from pictures in the newspapers the girls were his three daughters, Louise, now 12, Norma, now 7, and the baby, Lucille.

Hammonds suggested that the police in Carlisle examine the body of the oldest girl for scars on the top and bottom of her feet, as she had run a needle through one foot.

He said that when his wife left him in 1929, she was accompanied by her sister, Lucille Nelson. He said he understood she had joined her brother in Amarillo, Texas.

Hammonds said that his wife once had tried to kill him with a knife. He said she had been a victim of St. Vitus dance and a highly nervous woman.

Hammonds is a trainman employed by the Chicago Rapid Transit company.

He told his story to Lieut. Maurice Wall of the detective bureau. Telegrams were dispatched immediately to Pennsylvania authorities.

Hammonds said he and his wife were married in Chicago in 1921. The last he heard from Mrs. Hammonds, he declared, was in 1929 while she was still living in Amarillo.

He suggested authorities examine the body of the woman found not far from the spot where the three girls were discovered for traces of needle scars in the arms. He said his wife was a user of narcotics.

U. OF K. CAGEMEN TO HIT THE TRAIL

Ruppman Face Tough Schedule; N. Y. U. Is Booked at Madison Square Garden on January 5

Kentucky's basketball team will carry the Blue and White standard against teams from all sections of the land this season when they stack up against representatives from the east, north, west and south.

Michigan State, the latest addition to the Wildcat court slate, will provide the northern opposition when the Cats will journey to East Lansing. The Michigan team is one of the best in the country, being one of the few teams to conquer Notre Dame last season.

The objective game will probably be the tilt with New York University to be played in Madison Square Garden on January 5. N. Y. U. has the same first team that last year won the Metropolitan championship, and is sure to provide plenty of opposition to Coach Adolph Rupp's outfit.

Creighton University's Bluejays and Chicago will make up the western and midwestern section of Kentucky's schedule. Creighton will come here for two games on successive nights while Chicago faces the Cat team here on January 2. Xavier will be met on a home and home basis.

Kentucky will renew relations with Maryland after a period of four years. The last time the two clubs met the Old Liners triumphed 29-27 in the finals of the Southern Conference tournament, Alabama. (Continued on Page Four)

Staff "Marvels" At College Sheet

The Kentucky Kernel recently received the annual Athens edition of The Atlanta Georgian, featuring a front page compiled by the students of the Henry K. Grady school of journalism at the University of Georgia, which caused quite a bit of comment around The Kernel office.

Considering that until recently the Kernel staff annually published one entire issue of The Lexington Herald, with no outside assistance, the local prospective journalists ask "What's a front page, anyway?"

PUBLICITY MEN TO MEET AT U.K.

Dean W. S. Taylor Will Give Opening Address to Meeting at 2 p. m. Friday in Patterson Hall

PUBLIC IS INVITED

The fourth district of the American College Publicity association will hold its annual meeting at the University Friday and Saturday, December 7 and 8. Directors of publicity and public relations from the states of Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Michigan, and the Dominion of Canada will be present.

All of the sessions are open to the public, and members of the University staff are expected to attend and take part in the discussions. There are no charges for the sessions. However, those desiring to attend the night banquet, the Saturday noon breakfast, and the burgoon in the afternoon will have to pay the registration fee of $2.

The meeting will begin at 2 p. m. Friday in the recreation room of Patterson hall, when Dr. William S. Taylor, dean of the College of Education, will give an address of welcome. Those taking part on the Friday program are: A. A. Daugherty, Georgetown News; Len Tracy, Lexington Herald; Gerald Griffin, Lexington correspondent, Louisville Courier-Journal; Joe Jordan, Lexington Leader; Helen King, Publicity Bureau; John P. DeCamp, University of Cincinnati. The afternoon session will end with a tea and reception in the staff room at the library.

A banquet will be at 7 p. m. at the patio, 545 S. Limestone street, Joe Eaton, program manager of the Louisville station, WHAS, speaking on "The Commercial Radio Station and the College."

At 9:45 p. m. the association will be the guests of the University radio studios when a 15-minute "stunt" program will be given. A musical broadcast originating at three separate points will be simultaneously put on the air. An orchestra of 22 musicians in the University studios will be assisted by Herbert Koch, staff organist of WHAS from the main studios in Louisville, and Bob Dickey, organist at Memorial hall, on the University campus. A male trio and two soloists will complete the unique program given for the special benefit to delegates to the convention.

Speakers of the Saturday program are publicity directors: Harold K. Schellenger, Ohio State University; Joseph Wright, University of Illinois; Russell Alexander, dePaul University; and Fred F. Montiege, Loyola University.

The last event will be the burgoon feast at 3 p. m. Saturday at Dicker hall, when the election for the new director will be held and announcement will be made of the place of the next meeting.

PRE-MEDS TO TAKE TESTS DECEMBER 7

The Association of American Medical Colleges aptitude test will be given at 3 p. m. December 7 in Room 111 of McVey hall.

This test should be taken by all students who expect to apply for entrance to a medical school by the fall of 1935. The test has been adopted by the association as one of the requirements for admission. Students should make application immediately to Miss Owens at the dispensary. This is the only time the test will be given this year. A fee of one dollar is required of each student taking the test.

A WELCOME!

Editor Kentucky Kernel, University of Ky., Lexington

The student body of the University of Tennessee wishes to extend through you a most cordial invitation to the students of the University of Kentucky to be our guests while in Knoxville for the Kentucky-Tennessee game on Thanksgiving Day. We trust that many Kentucky students will accept our invitation.

Murray Warmath, President, All Student Club

THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving—what does it mean to us?

Thanksgiving is a day of praise, a moment when, turning from the wild, swirling rush that is humanity, a nation pauses, humble, to thank God for His blessings. It is a time of gladness, of praise, of peace. It is man's tribute to Divinity.

Thanksgiving is the period when families are reunited, when differences are forgotten and harsh feelings lost in the spirit of goodness, when greed is transcended by gratitude. It is the hour of love and mercy and tenderness. It is an act of compassion that soothes the tired heart and administers comfort to the suffering.

Thanksgiving is the day when served and servitor, rich and poor, sinner and saint, weak and strong, all bow in reverence to a greater force; when businesses are suspended and the work of men ceases; when the light of God shines brightest into the lives of mortal beings and we are led to a closer view of Him.

Thanksgiving is a holiday: schools close their doors; young men and young women dash for the freedom from restriction; they are happy, carefree, alive; they hasten to the welcome of home; they feast upon delicacies and are well-tended; they enter into the joyful, merry escapades that only youth can fashion; they are blessed. Can any one of them, any one of us, scorn Thanksgiving?

Thanksgiving—it does mean much to us.

OPEN DIPLOMACY

European powers, big and small, were asking each other yesterday, "Who are your allies?" One of the biggest questions that has enveloped war-scarred Europe in the last few months is whether this treaty is binding.

The result was a renewed attempt by one European statesman, at least, for recognition of one of Woodrow Wilson's noted 14 points, basis of settlement of the Versailles Treaty. Premier Benito Mussolini, who has more than once this year dispelled European war clouds, has urged the League of Nations to outlaw the secret commercial entente, and military agreements.

This movement, the first since Wilson acceded to the European demands during negotiations for the 1918 peace, may be the beginning of a new school of diplomacy. That there are arguments for such secret diplomatic maneuverings goes without saying—for mob psychology is still a problem.

But the many advantages of openly dickering for commercial support as well as support in arms reduction and navy control overcome this handicap. Japan may realize that to obtain naval parity with the United States, she must dicker not only with this country but England, as well. Germany might also realize by this open diplomacy that she is walled in by the powers surrounding her and must stop her nationalistic policies and become a part of the Central European bloc for internationalism.

Adoption of this important provision of Wilson's must become a reality in the next few months if the present European warfare is to be limited to words.

Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian Association has been active on the campus of the University of Kentucky for a great number of years and has had a worthwhile influence on the different student bodies. It now comes forward with a plan to reach an even greater number of students by the establishing of the Tuesday Luncheon club.

A number of the students that will be brought in contact with the organization in this manner could not be reached in any other way. Many of the ex-Hi-Y boys would be glad to take a part in W. M. C. A. find that with their studies and various social activities they have not had the time to spare to attend meetings that have been provided for them by the "Y."

Now, through the Luncheon club students can meet and enjoy the programs and at no loss of time from their studies or other activities. It would be worth the time of every one who has the chance to avail himself of this opportunity.

JEST AMONG US

With Eddie Cantor and Will Rogers both off the air on Sunday nights now, maybe we can get some of those erring souls to church once in awhile.

Since this column is supposed to be written from an unprejudiced point of view, we will refrain from commenting on the recent ODK selection of pledges.

We have to be particularly careful in poking fun at people that we don't hurt the feelings of the wrong persons.

A certain nearby restaurant specializes in steaks that are mistakes, beans that are has-beens, bread that is ill-bred, peas that do not appease, and eggs that are extraordinary.

In the list of this year's ten best news stories just released, poor old Huey Long wasn't even a runner-up.

The enterprising Kernel reporter who designs to mix with campus organizations has one advantage—he can usually manage to put his name first in any story.

A Letter

P. O. Box 114
Galveston, Texas
November 21st

J. "Balmey" Day
Editor-in-Chief
The Kentucky Kernel
University of Kentucky
Lexington

Dear Sonny Boy:

After reading your TO YOU—which you should have set to the music of I LOVE ME—and your PREPARE FOR PEACE, I felt it my duty to let you know just how absolutely idiotic and childish you appear to be to an old graduate; but, being a Kentuckian, and flattering myself that I am a gentleman (one of the Kentucky Taylors, huh) I have decided that good taste would not allow me to take such a course of action; and I am merely overlooking the first editorial, and am allowing the SATURDAY EVENING POST to answer the second.

Remember me to Margie and Enoch, and tell them I think they must surely be ashamed of themselves for tolerating you in the department.

Best regards,
GEORGE F. TAYLOR, 24.

P. S. If you feel like getting insulted at this, don't. Instead, I suggest that you consult the annual for '24 or ask any of the old timers on the campus—they'll all tell you I'm crazy anyway.

And A Reply

Mr. George "Aged in the Wood" Taylor
Galveston, Texas

Dear Half Pint:

I cannot thank you sufficiently for your tremendous kind, considerate, and encouraging letter. I appreciate it all the more in that I can see that you are a man of precision and accurate observation by the manner in which you spell the name of our paper.

You must have been a guiding light on this campus in your day. There is no doubt in my mind but that you were a star member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet.

When I received your epistle, I took the liberty of reading it to the Ethics and Principles class—much to their enjoyment, needless to say. In fact it received a veritable ovation and one enthusiastic student proposed a rising vote of thanks to Mr. Taylor for his typical alumni spirit.

In all due modesty, however, I must not take all the credit for those editorials. I wrote the one headed TO YOU under protest after continued suggestion from Professor Grehan. PREPARE FOR PEACE was written by one of my associate editors, John St. John, with the express purpose of firing students to write in, in opposition, that we might have a basis for constructive argument.

Your letter offered another reason for rejoicing. Not having received due publicity concerning your accomplishments since you left school, we were afraid that you might be deceased. Now that we know that you are residing at P. O. Box 114, everybody is happy.

A Very Merry XMAS to you,
JOHN F. DAY, Editor.

The FERA is assisting nearly 100,000 young men and women to attend colleges this fall.

SCANDAL SNICKERINGS

By "Black Ike and his Misfortunate Stooges"

I've heard enough about our "erstwhile friend Girdler has deserted us for all weeks to come," as a way to open this column, so I'm gonna tell the awful truth. I'm writing this column to keep my own name out of it more than anything else. I'm a busy man, but my stooges get around a bit, and they tell me they know a thing or two—or three.

"Tongue-Tied Tim" comes to me with a long story about Chio Lucy Guerrant, but being as how he can't talk plain and has to make signs, I could only get the gist of the thing. It seems that Lucy, on a recent trip to Georgia, met her ideal man, and this time she's really gonna marry the guy—without the aid of Papa Guerrant's shotgun. Sigma Chi Edwin Faber, whose pin she has been lugging around for some time, is said to have given her quite a talking to the other night at the Chi house. Personally, I don't see that this had much to do with the marriage. Personally, I don't see that this had much to do with the marriage. Personally, I don't see that this had much to do with the marriage.

"Pop Eyed Peri" says that Kappa Ida Greenleaf has lost a muff that she wants back. Ida doesn't remember where she lost it, but she says that if the person will return it, she won't ask any questions—that is if the finder won't do any quizzing either. Now I ask you—ain't that fair? Come on now, you mug, give it back to the little girl—it's gonna be a long hard winter.

"Three-Legged Tom" comes of my very best stooges, who covers a lot of ground on account of his leg advantage, says that Phi Delta pleb Joe Scholtz ain't doin' so good lately. It seems that he had a date with Sarah Slack last Friday, but she got a campus for Friday and Saturday nights. She and Joe and Kappa "Tuddy" Borries were talking it over in Dunn's and Sarah remarked that the only thing she hated about the campus was the fact that she would miss the Kappa Sig dance Saturday night—Looks like Walkin' Papers to me, Joe.

"Grove in Bloom"
"Knock-Kneed Ned" wants me to warn all you boys concerning this little Mary Groves. Chio, being as how she sent Delta Chi Jimmy Carroll's pin back on a calling card, she's dangerous enough as it is, but when Professor Farquhar gets through with her, she's really gonna be tough. He's teachin' her to "bloom." She is to quit smoking, get up at six every morning and walk five miles, eat raw eggs, go to bed at nine, and quit a lot of things I don't think you could do and live in "Pat" hall. After this routine the Professor says she'll begin to "bloom." Boy! if she's only budding now, what will it be then?

Nice Chaps!
It's hard to believe, but Sigma Chi Reynolds Faber and John Lawhead have taken up spinning. Oh, yes they have, too. Sometime last week they marched (after a fashion) into the Alpha Gam house, went upstairs to the top floor and got the old spinning wheel. According to the best of my knowledge they haven't taken it back yet, and "One-Eyed Pete" says they won't until they have finished a new suit apiece.

"Cautious Carl" ventures to say that even if Mary Andrews Persons will try anything once, there's one thing she won't do again, and that's trade licks with "Bob" Hess. It seems that the two agreed to trade licks with the paddle. Mary hit first, and as according to her nature, she put everything she had into it. Hard-hearted Hess thereupon forgot that she was a female and drove her through the wall. They tell that Mary is still picking the splinters out.

Chisler!
About all I could find out at the dance Saturday night was that even though Edna Evans is supposed to belong to S. A. E. Steeley, she still gets beautiful watches and things from Alumni Pikap "Ted" Cassidy on her birthday, which comes about this time of the year if I remember right.

One of my stooges reports that Sigma Chi Smathers says he is still going with Tri Delta pledge "Sis" Tate, but one of the other boys tells me somebody is wrong, because "Sis" said that it wasn't so.

"Big-Eyed Henrietta" says that the Kappa's are all wet if they think none of the little pledges haven't been pinned as yet. She says she knows one who lives in "Pat" Hall who wears a Sigma badge somewhere under her dress (she won't tell where) and the girl isn't a freshman. Over in Boyd the same thing has happened—this time it's a Kappa Sig pin, and the little dame has wicked eyes. If I tell any more I'll have to tell their names, and both of these guys are bigger than I am.

Yoo-Hoo, Howard!
Frank Fowler, Guignol director, says that as a rule he usually prefers brunettes to blonds, but this Howard Smathers really gets him. Howard had the lead in the last play.

She Can Take It!
My personal nomination for the most persistent young lady on this campus goes to little "Lizzy" Redd, the perpetual Chio pledge, who just won't quit. When she started after Bob Galtskill she weighed around 105 pounds, now she is a mere shadow of her former self. Bob says that she is his shadow, too. Chio Jean Allen now weighs around 107.

We feel that we owe an apology to Sigma Chi Bill Dawson. He didn't like the manner in which his singing of "Lost in a Fog" was taken in. It was when he was being sewed up that the singing occurred, and that only after his joy at discovering that his sister and the other members of the accident were all right. Bill, at the time, was full of morphine. We were sorry about this Bill, and I'm serious you mugs.

This is something else I found out myself. Mary Armstrong Elliott, transfer from Transylvania, decided to put her cards on the table with "Cat" Buckner, law student and K. A. from Virginia State. She put 'em on the table all right—the whole deck, but "Cat" refused to take a card and the trick didn't work. It's all over now, except that Bruce Shepherd don't know much about cards. He might draw, Mary.

So long, you rats and ratsies. If my stooges don't all get killed, we'll be back soon. Of course, I'm not responsible for what gets in here you know—I'm just a rewrite man. Sure 'nuff.

CAMPUS PERSONALITIES

By CAPEL McNASH

John Franklin Day is his name, and because he has red hair, a cheerful disposition and a sense of humor, people call him "Sunny." He was born in Flemingsburg, Kentucky, in 1913, and is Editor-in-Chief of the Kentucky Kernel, president of the Men's Student Council, a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, Strollers, Guignol, Sigma Delta Chi, Pan-Polkon, and was associate editor of the 1934 Kentuckian.

Sunny belongs to A. T. O. fraternity, and for three years tooled a trombone in the band. He is English-Dutch by descent, and his favorite desert is charlotte russe—this delicacy J. F. D. finds easy to eat but hard to spell.

Sunny thinks Glen Grey's orchestra is about the best, and dancing, tennis, and swimming are his favorite pastimes. He is exceedingly fond of dogs and has no objection to snakes, but doesn't like dumb girls with slushy lines, and when a bit younger was always getting in bad for shooting the and on....

LITERARY

Conducted by DOROTHY WHALEN

We have met "the" Jesse Stuart and we are completely under the spell of his lovely poetry. Without a doubt a dozen roses should be awarded to Chi Delta Phi in bringing about such a gigantic coup. He talked about his book, "Man With the Bull-Tongue Plow," with such sincerity and honesty that everyone, whether they liked his poetry or not, listened and marveled that one so young could express himself so plainly yet so truly. His ideas are clean-cut and very simple, but he has such a power of color that they are symbolic of great poetry. He is extremely young, very enthusiastic, but modest, and quite original.

Jesse Stuart is on his way to the top. Many of us will look back and say "I met him when."

Shattered Rhapsody
It was cool along the lakeside drive, and the wind was strong. Slanting rays of the autumn sun fell among the dry, scattered leaves in the park, and glanced on the yellowing grass. The few benches under the bare trees were empty, and the broad expanse of sand to the left was wet and untracked, except where the receding waves left thin lines of foam on its surface.

Lawrence Hunt walked slowly, his hands clenched in his overcoat pockets and his chin in his scarf. The automobiles on the boulevard moved past in an unbroken line, but he walked on, unheeding. Occasionally his foot crushed a leaf which had blown from the park across the drive. Lawrence wondered, vaguely, how the leaf had escaped crushing under the speeding, relentless wheels of the traffic. Escape from wheels, only to be crushed by a careless boot. He pressed his lips together, and raised his head. He was surprised to find that his eyes were full of neighbors' cats. His ambition is to write for newspapers and magazines and perhaps teach in a university. In fact for the past three summers Professor Day has been teaching Fleming county lads their ABC's in one of those little "one-room jobs," as he calls them.

Sunny has lived in Iowa, Arkansas, and Ohio, but prefers the South, and especially Kentucky. He is frequently seen with Bettie Bosworth and thinks she is "the sweetest."

The most embarrassing thing that ever happened to Sunny occurred at a church wedding last spring. It seems he was singing "I Love You Truly" as a solo, when he inhaled one of the files that was hovering near some adjacent flowerers. The song ended abruptly, but Sunny's embarrassment lingered on getting in bad for shooting the and on....

tears, so that he could see only dimly. Slowly he drew his hand from his pocket and fumbled for his handkerchief, to blow his nose vigorously. He leaned against the high concrete embankment for a moment, and looked over the cold water to the lights on a steamer in the distance. The last rays of the sun were coloring the water in horizontal streaks of blue and gold, and the warning tinkle of the buoys sounded with every strong blast of wind.

Lawrence lay his hands on the cold stone and stared at them. They were beautiful hands; strong and white. White! That was the trouble with him. He was too white; too imaginative, too impractical. Those fingers were long, but they could not strain at ivory keys. They could respond to the texture of a painting, but they could not interpret a mood or a thought into comprehensive beauty. As he looked at them, he hated their weakness—hated the glory which lay all about him and which he could not interpret, even to himself. He gripped the concrete until the muscles of his wrists ached with pain, and then dropped his hands to his sides. He hesitated, and watched the long lines of color fade into greyness, and obscurity as the light vanished.

Now electric lights flared along the drive, and Lawrence almost sobbed as he saw the long curving outline of the boulevard, which wound out into the blackness of the lake and finally lost itself in a cluster of light far down in the city. An automobile flashed past him with its triumphant head lamps, leaving him in darkness until another blazed down the driveway. Lawrence turned his back to the lake and walked across to the park. Here he sat on a cold, wet bench, deep in the grass, and lay his hat on the ground. The wind was becoming cold, now, but on his hot forehead it was refreshing, and Lawrence lay his head back against the rough bark of a tree and closed his eyes. A flurry brushed damp leaves about his ankles, but he did not move.

Presently, out of the darkness, a figure moved into the circle of light under the street-lamp on the corner, and her shadow moved across Lawrence's face. He opened his eyes and looked at her, calmly. She did not speak, or turn, and after a little, Lawrence's eyes moved beyond her, across the wide boulevard with its chains of light, to the flat, dark surface of the lake. There was only a thin line, now, to separate sky and water, and soon there would be only the blackness of a void. The man shuddered, and turned back to the silent figure under the street-light. His eyes rested on her wonderingly, questioning, and then wandered down to his white clasped hands.

He was forty-one. Forty-one. In ten more years, those fingers would be limp and colorless. And now, while they were strong, he was so helpless. Helpless to use them, to give his strength to a creation of his own. He felt the rage of a hunted animal whose last pathway is blocked. But then the shadow moved again, and left Lawrence's face in the light. He looked up at her, and smiled.

Friend-Robinson

Announcements have been received of the marriage of Miss Kathryn Friend, daughter of Mr. Eddie L. Friend, Lexington, to Mr. William Pierce Robinson, son of Mrs. Jessie Darlington Robinson and the late John Whitcomb Robinson, which took place November 5, in Richmond, Ind. The bride attended the University, being a member of Alpha Gamma Delta, and was graduated from the Morehead State Teachers' college in 1932. Mr. Robinson is a graduate of the College of Music, Cincinnati, and at present is manager of radio station WKBV, in Richmond, Ind.

Zeta Tau Alpha Dinner

The members of the active chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha entertained with a Thanksgiving dinner Sunday at the Kentucky hotel in honor of the pledges.

Place cards, candles, flowers and nut cups were in the traditional Thanksgiving colors to carry out the party scheme. Miss Dorothy Lee Martin, pledge captain, presided.

Miss Kitty Cooke entertained with a number of songs, and at the conclusion of the dinner, all joined in the singing of some of the sorority music.

Pledge Tea

The pledges of Kappa Delta entertained from 4 to 6 p. m. Monday with a tea in honor of the pledges of the other sororities.

The house was decorated with white, yellow, and orchid asters. Mrs. Ollie Higgenbotham, house-mother, presided over the tea table which was decorated with white roses and green tapers.

Guests were received by Misses Eleanor Randolph, Elizabeth Ann Millard, and Dorothy Brooks, officers of the pledge group. About a hundred guests called during the afternoon.

Alumni Entertain

The football squad and coaches were guests of the Lexington Alumni Association at a dinner given at 6:30 p. m. Sunday in the rose room of the Lafayette hotel.

Guests of honor were Coaches Wynne, Grant, and Twomey; Messrs. McMillan, Orr, Ayers, Miller, G. Bryant, Darnaby, Hay, E. Bryant, Simpson, McClurg, Walker, Potter, Vanaman, Rupert, Long, Huddleston, James, Pritchard, Johnson, Myers, McCool, Anderson, Paris, Pribble, Wagner, Jobe, Nevers, Jacobs, Olah, Jean, Wallace, and Goforth.

Kappa Sigma Dance

Activities and pledges of Beta Nu chapter of Kappa Sigma entertained Saturday night with a house dance at the chapter house on south Broadway.

The house was decorated with evergreens and clusters of balloons bearing out a color scheme of the fraternity's colors. Miniature fraternity paddles were given as favors.

Chaperons for the dance were Mrs. Daisy Pedigo, housemother; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Sawin, and Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Watts.

Guests of the actives and pledges were Misses Elizabeth Leslie, Virginia Bosworth, Toska Ann von Borries, Gladys Campbell, Helen Farmer, Mildred Gorman, Sarah Slack, Betty Boyd, Kathleen Cole, Elizabeth Jones, Elizabeth Lloyd, Helen Crady, Martha Shipp, Ann Eubanks, Dolly Gatewood, Jane Henderson, Martha Hall, and Nancy Trimble.

Dean Blanding Entertains

Dean Sarah Blanding was hostess at luncheon Saturday to the alumnae of Kappa Kappa Gamma at her home in the country. Following the luncheon a business meeting was held.

Kappa Delta Pi

Dean and Mrs. W. S. Taylor were hosts Friday afternoon to the active members of Kappa Delta Pi who held formal initiation services for the new pledges of the fraternity. The officers of the group presided at the services, following which tea and sandwiches were served. Miss Frances Martin and Mrs. May Duncan presided at the tea table, which bore a lovely centerpiece of fall flowers and tapers.

Phi Alpha Delta

Phi Alpha Delta, honorary legal fraternity, held formal initiation services Friday afternoon at the Lafayette hotel. Those initiated were Messrs. J. D. O'Bryen, John Brandon Price, Gordon Lisany, and Robert Hensley.

Immediately following the services, a banquet was given at which Mr. Robert Hatton acted as toastmaster. Speakers were Dean Alvin E. Evans, Mr. Robert Moss, alumni advisor, and Prof. Lewis Roberts.

Installation of Officers

Lambda Lambda of Sigma Chi announces the installation of the following officers: Messrs. William Gottshall, president; Alvin J. King, Jr., vice-president; J. Waller Rodes, Jr., recording secretary; John Lawhead, treasurer; Elvis J. Stahr, Jr., corresponding secretary and editor; Frank O. Coffey, historian; William H. Swishelm, pledge master, and Robert Butler, sergeant-at-arms.

University Club

The University club of Christ Church cathedral met at 6:30 p. m. Sunday at the parish house. Lieut. Gov. "Happy" Chandler was guest speaker and his talk was on "Youth and Politics." The usual buffet supper was served preceding the meeting.

Sigma Delta Chi

Sigma Delta Chi will entertain its pledges at 6:30 o'clock tonight with a dinner to be given in the commons. Following the dinner, initiation services will be held.

Those honored are: Messrs. Cameron Coffman, William Carrell, Delmar Adams, Ed Shannon, William Miller, John Christie, Bud Hunt, Henry McCown, Morton Collins, George Calvert, John Day, Art Muth, Basil Baker, Jack Wild, Henry Hornsby, William Wallace, John Reidy, and Oscar Haight.

Theta Sigma Phi Hears Mrs. Miner

Mrs. Jesse Miner was the guest speaker at a meeting of Theta Sigma Phi, national journalism sorority, held last Thursday night in the reading room of Boyd hall. Mrs. Miner spoke on "Contemporary Women Writers."

Mrs. Miner discussed such poets as Millay, Dickinson, Wylie, and Reese. She declared that, in recent years, "Beauty is again finding its way into poetry," and she made note of the decline in popularity of Lowell and the Imagist school. The talk was concluded by the reading of several of Mrs. Miner's own poems from her book called "Trailings."

The meeting was attended by the active chapter, alumni chapter and guests.

Dr. Henry Smith Pritchett, president-emeritus of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, has been awarded the honorary degree of doctor of laws by the University of Missouri.

AFTER EVERY CLASS IT RINGS THE BELL!

PIPE smokers everywhere have labeled Prince Albert "The National Joy Smoke" because they have found it a superior mixture of choice, top-quality tobaccos. Every hint of "bite" is removed from mild, mellow "P.A." by a special process. One pipeful of Prince Albert will prove to you why smokers say, "You never know how good your pipe can taste until you try 'P.A.'"

GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

MISS ANNE GOULD, popular young society leader, says: "I honestly like Camel's taste better than any of the other cigarettes. And I see no reason for letting cigarettes make you nervous—Camels never make me edgy or jumpy."

CIVIL ENGINEER, Capt. Eric Loch says: "I always have Camels—rely on them for good cheer—the 'lift' they give my energy when I'm feeling 'low'! And the longer I smoke them, the more I appreciate their rich, milder flavor."

ALL TOBACCO MEN KNOW:

"Camels are made from finer, More Expensive Tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand."

LYMAN CHIPMAN, '37—Business Student: "Intense concentration on the complicated financial structures of great nations may make me a better business man some day, but it sure makes me plenty tired at times right now," says Lyman Chipman. "I never let fatigue take the keen edge off my thinking. To keep mentally alert and at the same time retain my physical ease... well-being, I smoke Camels. I know that a Camel will chase away the dull feeling that comes after a few hours of hard study."

Honorary Sophomore Frat Inducts Four

Kentucky chapter of Keys, men's honorary sophomore fraternity, held formal initiation for four men at the Teacup Inn Sunday afternoon. Those initiated are: Richard H. Butler, Sigma Chi; Henry Collins, Pi Kappa Alpha; Carl Erikson, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Mr. William H. Ward, who was initiated as faculty advisor. Following the services a banquet was held for the new members.

At a business meeting following the banquet, Keys decided to have meetings at the respective fraternity houses, except that once every two months a dinner meeting should be held. Reports were given on the results of the tea-dance given last Friday in conjunction with Owens.

The members of Keys are Ike Moore, Delta Tau Delta, president; J. Franklin Wallace, Sigma Nu, vice-president; Curtis Wilcott, Alpha Tau Omega, secretary-treasurer; and Ernie Shovea, Alpha Sigma Phi; Leo Spence, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Walter Riddell, Phi Delta Theta; Pete Reininger, Lambda Chi Alpha; Charles Dunn, Phi Kappa Tau; Sidney Kelly, Independent; Charles Stephenson, Kappa Sigma; Ben Gaines, Alpha Gamma Rho; and Douglas Jackes, Triangle.

Dr. Durst Offers Organ Recital in Sunday Program

Dr. Sidney C. Durst of the Cincinnati College of Music presented a brilliant organ recital Sunday afternoon in Memorial hall. During the entire program Doctor Durst, through his faultless technique, displayed a perfect control of the console, and played even the most difficult selections with an ease that only a master can attain.

The concert began with Bach's impressive "Prelude and Fugue in E Flat," which was followed by a melodious air from Bach's "Suite in D."

Next were presented a beautiful composition by Bossi entitled "St. Francis Colloquy with the Swallows," the artist's own "Intermezzo," and Dethier's "Variations on an ancient Christmas Carol."

Doctor Durst then played the stately, graceful "Sunset" and the gay "Rondo Capriccio," two compositions by Lemare. The concluding selection was Rogers' "Suite in G minor."

Egloff Speaks To Chemical Society

Processes of Refining Oil Are Discussed by Noted Director

Dr. Gustav Egloff, director of research of the Universal Oil Products company, Chicago, was the principal speaker at a meeting of the Lexington section of the American Chemical society held at 4 p. m. yesterday in Kastle hall. His subject was "Modern Refining and Products from Crude Oil."

Doctor Egloff is one of the noted authorities on petroleum, having published many articles relating to the petroleum industry as well as the chemistry of hydrocarbons. He has been granted 164 patents here and abroad relative to the processing of petroleum oils, coals, shale oils and chemical derivatives from hydrocarbon. Moreover, he has designed, operated and studied oil cracking units for more than 18 years.

Doctor Egloff is now serving principally as adviser for numerous societies and associations here and abroad and has been selected for honorary membership in six others. He has addressed numerous meetings and conferences in the United States, Germany, Italy, and Japan, and has delivered lectures at the leading colleges and universities such as Columbia, Princeton, Chicago, Northwestern, California, Lehigh, Stanford, Missouri, Michigan, New York and others.

He was appointed by the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical engineers, the National Research council and American Chemical society, to install and supervise the petroleum and chemical exhibits at the recent Century of Progress exposition at Chicago.

Wynne Ends First Year as UK Mentor

Big Bob Pritchard, the Princeton blizzard, is rapidly rounding into shape and although it is doubtful that he will start the game, he may see plenty of service. Coach Wynne is taking no chances on his men getting scarred up in practice and as a result only light workouts are scheduled for the remainder of the practice periods. Today they will go through a light drill practice and leave tonight for Knoxville. Arriving in the Tennessee town tomorrow they will go to Shields-Watkins field, home of the Vols, for a limbering up exercise.

Last week found the Big Blue entangling with one of the toughest weeks of practice they have experienced since The Chatter took over the coaching reins. Saturday they drilled for nearly two and one-half hours against the freshmen, the frosh running Tennessee plays. After a look at the Vol formations the Wildcats polished up their own offense with the frosh.

furnishing the opposition. The drill Saturday kept the coach and his team from visiting Danville and witnessing the Centre-Mercer game as guests of the Boyle county institution.

Although Tennessee is again a big favorite many Wildcat fans are planning to attend the game. Several hundred persons have signified their intention of going to Knoxville. Special trains will carry many rooters, while others will go by bus and automobiles. The band will leave Wednesday by train and arrive in Knoxville in time to parade through the streets in the morning. The Vol backers are planning a big celebration for Thursday morning and a program has been arranged which will be broadcast over WNOX, in Knoxville.

Home Ec Honorary Initiates Three

Phi Upsilon Omicron, national professional organization in home economics, will initiate its pledges at 5:30 this afternoon at the home of Dean Cooper on the Nicholasville road. Initiation will be followed by a banquet at 7:30 o'clock in the Wellington Arms tea room.

The pledges are Mary Lewis Shear, Eva Mae Nunnelle, and Mrs. Elizabeth Whitaker. The following officers will be in charge of the ceremony: Faye Allen, president; Anna Evans, vice-president; Mildred Holmes, treasurer; and Polly Kesheimer, secretary.

Anna Evans will open tonight's program with an address on "What Is Friendship." A trio will sing "Bells of St. Mary's" and Miss Dorothy Threlkeld, district counselor, will speak to the group. Miss Faye Allen will be toastmaster for the occasion.

LAFFOON TO BE ALUMNI'S GUEST

Frankfort UK Club Will Give Annual Dinner-Dance at Capital Hotel, December 6

CAT COACHES TO SPEAK

The Frankfort-Kentucky Alumni club will give its first annual dinner and dance at 7 p. m. Thursday, December 6, at the Capital hotel in Frankfort. Governor Laffoon, Coaches Wynne and Rupp, Captain Joe Rupert, and Co-captains Tucker and Lawrence will be guests of honor.

Louis Cox, president of the Frankfort club, will welcome the guests, and Dr. W. D. Funkhouser will be the principal speaker. Doctor McVey has been invited but probably will be unable to attend.

Invitations have been sent to the fraternities and sororities and some 300 persons are expected for the dinner. A continuous floor show will be provided during the dinner, and the dance will be from 10 until 2. The Blue and White orchestra will furnish the music, so that it will be an "All-Kentucky" affair. Tickets may be procured from Miss "Marge" McLaughlin in the journalism department.

The original purpose of the dinner is to celebrate the conclusion of Coach Wynne's first year at the University, and to assure him of the backing and best wishes of Kentucky alumni outside of Lexington. There are some 200 alumni in Franklin county, and all of these will receive invitations. This dance and the dances that are to follow during the winter months are not given with the idea of making money, but for the purpose of establishing a more closely knit alumni organization for the promotion of the University's interests.
